

When the going gets tough... the tough get flexible!

Show just how Flexible & Adaptable you are as an employer

3rd year running!

LONDON

flexible working fair 2009

5th October 2009

10.00am - 3.00pm

Inmarsat Conference Centre,
99 City Road, London EC1Y 1AX

The London Flexible Working Fair 2009, organised by JustPartTime, offers employers, recruiters and training providers an excellent opportunity to meet a diverse selection of quality candidates face to face.

We all know it's a tricky time right now out in the working world - flexible working is a way to get through these times until the economy stabilises.

Also, flexible working benefits both the employer and employee and that makes excellent business sense.

Now in its third successful year, JustPartTime invites you to register and book exhibition space for your company to recruit a workforce that's actively seeking flexible working positions and/or training opportunities.

Take this chance to network with other exhibitors.

Exhibit your company at the London Flexible Job Fair organised by JustPartTime and promote your company's adaptable approach to employment.

You bring the jobs / training opportunities & we'll attract the candidates!
